Reviews

A whole new eBook with a brand new point of view. It is definitely simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the publication. I am just pleased to explain how this is the greatest ebook i have read during my very own daily life and could be he best ebook for possibly.

Delacorte Press, 2003. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: Sarah Booth Delaney is no ordinary P.I. As Sunflower County's resident Southern-belle-gone-awry, she struggles to hold on to her family's plantation and put up with the ghost of her great-grandmother's nanny who wants her safely married off and pregnant with an heir for Dahlia House. Not one to wait around for a white knight, Sarah Booth takes on the kind of cases no one else will touch. Like trying to exonerate a man accused of murdering the town's most popular musician. The two men met in prison: Ivory Keys, a gifted black blues pianist, and Scott Hampton, a white rich boy turned racist. Somewhere between the two men, a spark was lit. And by the time he came out of the joint, Scott Hampton had not only renounced his racist ways, he had learned to play a blues guitar that made grown women go weak in the knees. So why did Scott plunge a steel shank into his mentor's chest? Ivory's widow doesn't think he did, and she's paid Sarah Booth to prove it. No easy task, especially since the delicate racial harmony of Sunflower County is threatening to come undone under the heat of Sarah Booth's investigation. For a woman feeling a little heat of her own - navigating between a rich, available businessman and a married lawman with a waffling heart - this case is taking dangerous twists. A town's slumbering passions have awakened with a jolt, a matchmaking ghost is on the prowl, and Sarah Booth is caught between her need to know the truth and the consequences it will ha.
